EVENT

I was able to speak with vendors to determine if a follow-up meeting would be of value to us both. I was also able to schedule meetings with existing customers. Being based in the states but doing business in Europe this event is extremely valuable!

Sandra Griffith, Executive Account Manager, Genesis Aviation

EVENT SUMMARY

Aviation Week Network's MRO Europe Conference and Exhibition was held in Amsterdam, October 18-20, 2016. The conference and exhibition brought in more than 7,000 registered industry professionals. The event drew representatives from nearly 100 countries and hosted a sold-out exhibition hall featuring 400+ exhibitors.

The conference featured 71 speakers representing the airlines and industry including the keynote address from Stan Deal, SVP Commercial Aviation Services, Boeing. Sessions included discussions on topics such as, "Sourcing and Buying Habits of Airlines" and "MRO Europe Market Forecast and Key Trends."

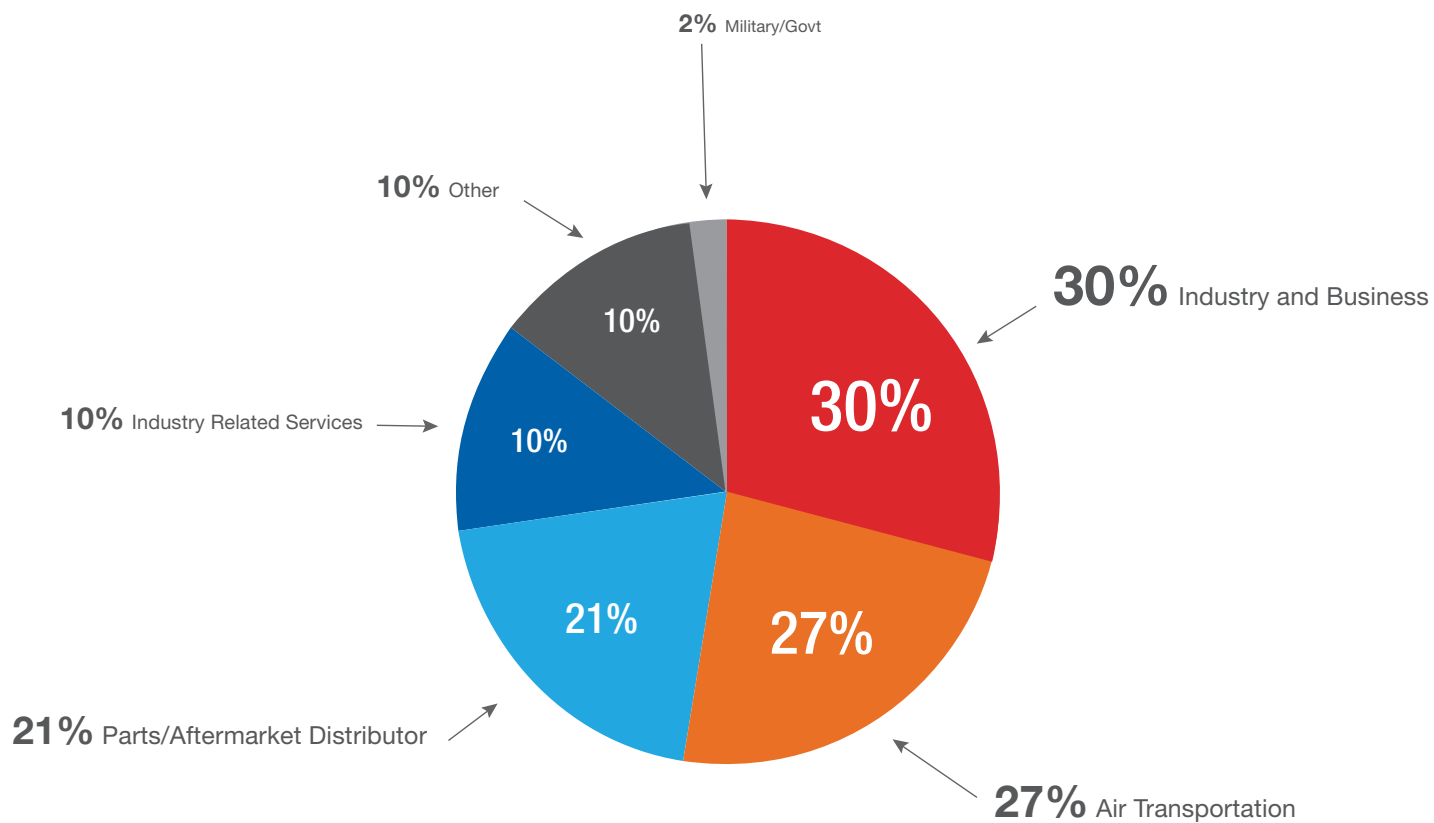

In addition, MRO Europe featured complimentary sessions. "A real-life solution to the big data challenge" presented by Pratt & Whitney, "When Does It Make Sense to Use a MRO" presented by Panasonic and "Global Visibility through Innovative Logistics" presented by FedEx. These sessions were open to all delegates of the event.

MRO Europe 2016 provided an excellent venue and forum for interacting with customers and suppliers. The event was well run, easily accessible, and exhibitor booths were top notch (Air Show Quality) (a big difference from prior years which seemed to have more table top displays).
