

A Subscription for Success

Flight departments' most trusted resource for consolidated airport, ground handling and service-related data

Accessible in a cloud format 24/7/365, commercial passenger and cargo carriers subscribe to Airportdata.com to access the airport intelligence needed to optimize their business.

Airportdata.com expands on the extensive information available through AC-U-KWIK, adding cargo- and passenger-handling specific content and extra airport departments. In addition, it includes many more contact details for each company or airport department.

Subscription service to Airportdata.com includes:

- Airport technical data
- Key contacts at airports
- Airport and ground handling data, including fuel, catering and line maintenance listings
- Cargo- and airline-specific listings
- Recommended hotels, car rental and other transport options
- Medical facilities at or close to airports
- Commercial flight clearance requirements
- Private/corporate flight clearance requirements
- Designated authorities and search & rescue contacts
- Aviation charges and flight permit application forms
- Local embassy and consulate details
- Links to AIPs
